Volume 12 Issue 3

September 2017

Summer is usually a time to catch one's breath and recharge batteries. The New Year starts in January, the League year starts April 1, but somehow Labor Day always seems like the beginning of a new year to me. Guess that is what happens when you spend a lifetime in education, first as a student, and then as a teacher.

The board has kept busy planning the upcoming year. We will be discussing solar power, the constitutional revision commission and restoration of rights to non violent felons who have served their sentences. After piloting observations last spring, the VPK project will do the observations this fall.

A special thanks to all who made our Equality Tea on August 18 such a special event. Check out our Facebook page for pictures of the event. We had a full house and our speakers gave great insights into their breaking down barriers in many areas.

Our monthly meetings resume on Monday, September 25, 10:30 a.m., at the Community Bank and Trust Company on CR466. Our speaker's bureau will give a presentation on the Constitutional Revision Commission. We all need to be aware of this commission that meets every 20 years, and this is the year! The speaker's bureau is available for your group...we have a number of requests so far, but are happy to schedule more.

The League is involved in gathering petitions in support of a constitutional amendment regarding the restoration of rights for former non violent felons. Petitions will be available at the September meeting. We encourage all to sign one and we will have them for you to share with others if you wish. Gathering of petitions is a HUGE undertaking, and we need all members around the state to get involved!

I hope you are asking, where can I fit in? Join the speaker's bureau. We need speakers as well as a second individual to go to the engagements. Sign up to take part in the VPK observations. Training sessions are scheduled. Attend a meeting of local government and report back on what happened. Collect signatures for the constitutional amendment. Take the online quiz (EASY) and become eligible to register new voters. See a board member to volunteer and help make a difference!

Yours in the League

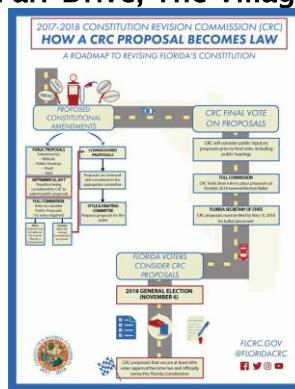

Beth Hicks

P.S. Look forward to seeing you on September 25, and please remember to invite a friend.
